

Is pro-nuclear the best option for our make-or-break century?

Mayor Heather Wright invites you to take part in a public conversation on the pro-nuclear power debate. Four scientific professionals and commentators offer four perspectives on a subject that still divides public opinion. Whether you are 'for' 'against' or 'undecided', this is your chance to hear why these experts all agree that nuclear power is not only the safest energy source - but the one with the lowest environmental footprint.

Presenting the case for nuclear power are:
